DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regard to claim 1 and as the claim is written, it is not clear to the examiner how the plunger of the device can have a spring force applied to move it in a driving direction when the solenoid has already applied a driving force to the plunger. As the examiner understands the invention the solenoid moves the plunger towards the spring (opposite the driving direction), and then using the bias force on the spring to move the plunger in a driving direction.

In regard to claim 2, it is not clear to the examiner what the order of the steps are. In the claim, Lines 12-14 recite "energizing said solenoid ...said solenoid, and", while lines 15-17 recite "applying a spring ...said solenoid". It appears that these steps are reversed. The examiner does not see how the solenoid can apply a force to the plunger when the plunger is not inside of the solenoid. It appears that the spring must first move , at least, part of the plunger into the solenoid for the plunger to attain any electro magnetic force.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Avery et al (US 3,924,789).

In regard to claim 1, Avery discloses the invention as claimed including energizing solenoid 34, to move the plunger in the form of armature 2 in a direction opposite the driving direction, which compresses springs 76 of biasing assembly 36 and moving the plunger in a driving direction using the force applied to biasing assembly 36 (see Fig. 1, C2, L61 – C3, L21 and C3, L67 – C4, L18).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 2 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

6. Claim 3-5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Doyle, Gershnow, Buck et al, Weber, Kerrigan, Tsai and Arnold et al have been cited to show devices having similar structure.
